

I rely on KLove Radio to provide quality content to my entire family every day. I don't have to worry about screening the content when my children listen to KLove. Loosing KLove radio to an LPFM station would not be in the best interest of the community because it is one of only two in the area with this programming format.